- ✓ To be able to meet the needs of a baby for food, physical care, and psychological needs, both mental and emotional.
- ✓ To learn good methods of communicating with children.
- ✓ To examine how a pre-school should be set up and run.

Course Outline

- ✓ Decisions about parenthood
- ✓ The beginning of parenthood
- ✓ Pregnancy
- ✓ Newborn baby
- ✓ The toddler
- ✓ The preschooler

Evaluation

Portfolio	40% (includes all in-class participation and assignments)
Projects	30%
Tests	30%

Students absent from class, for any reason, are still held responsible for the work missed during that time. Regular, on time attendance, is necessary for success in this course. Our school has a new attendance policy this year, and any student missing 16 classes in any course may not be eligible to receive credit for that course. Please read our school communication plan for further details.

The mid-semester report card will contain a mark based on all tests, portfolio work and projects to date. The parent teacher sessions for this semester will be November 24th, and 25th. Parents/Guardians wishing further information regarding their child's progress may contact me personally through the school at 562-5464 or tanyalahey@staff.ednet.ns.ca.
